

A WorkOne Success Story

“Keep an open mind about your job search”

-Jeff Muza, WorkOne customer

Jeff Muza is a Navy veteran and former Walmart Trainer/Manager who had to take a significant break in employment due to health issues. Muza came to WorkOne LaPorte eager to return to work.

He was looking for a career outside of the retail industry that would utilize his customer service and management skills. As a veteran, Muza was able to participate and successfully complete the Operation: Job Ready Veterans (OJRV) week-long seminar to better prepare for re-entering the job market.

A Career Advisor position became available at one of the WorkOne offices. Staff saw him as a fit given his skillset and encouraged him to apply. After a couple of interviews, Muza was offered the position and is now a part of the WorkOne team assisting others in their job search.
